

2022-2023 Fall/Winter season

Saskatoon's First Multi-Sport and Cross-Training Studio
Channel Performance has partnered with local business and professionals. Channel Performance has established our own clubs/studios to build multi-sport athletes.

We offer individual discounts by the number of classes each athlete will register for.

Why Build a Multi-Sport Athlete?

Channel Performance has witnessed first-hand athletes improve faster in their specific sport by training the overall body. Teaching our athletes different patterns of movement activates all muscle groups, this has been proven to quickly fix an error of movement in one sport while training in another. This prevents stale and plateau training and allows an athlete to show steady progress.

Cross-training plays a crucial part to an athlete's training program. Strength training, flexibility; will reduce the risk of injury, and increases the range of motion. Performance psychology helps an athlete overcome mental blocks, persevere through hard times.
